

RAIDERS OF TEXAS TOWN SURROUNDED

MOTOR TRUCK DRIVERS ARE CAPTURED BY REPORT OF SEVENTY-FIVE BANDITS' CAPTURE.

TAKEN WITHOUT FIGHT

Langhorne's Cavalry Claimed to Have Ended Successful Chase 125 Miles Below Border.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Marathon, Tex., May 17.—A truck arriving here today from Boquillas said that it was reported on the border that Major Langhorne and two troops of cavalry had surrounded the Big Bend bandit raiders about 125 miles from the border, killing six and capturing seventy-five. Army officers here have made no announcement regarding such an occasion.

According to truck drivers' reports the bandits were surrounded and did not put up a fight. The Americans seized the truck at once. The seventy-five captured, it was said, were to be brought here for trial.

Forty Miles Below Border.

San Antonio, Texas, May 17.—Colonel Fred W. Sibley, commander of the expedition which was sent into Mexico at Boquillas to capture the Big Bend bandits, is about forty miles south of the border, according to reports from headquarters. Sibley's officers of the signal corps working along the line of communication.

Three companies of coast artillery were sent from here to Del Rio today to be stationed along the border of the Southern Pacific to guard bridges and garrison towns.

Rescue Captured American.

Marathon, Texas, May 17.—United States soldiers have rescued J. Deemer, American storekeeper, captured by the Big Bend bandits, according to a man named Terry, who arrived here this morning.

He said the soldiers entered a village about a mile from the border and the bandits rushed out, leaving Deemer and a captured negro named Monroe Payne. Payne and Deemer are being brought back to the United States.

Terry said the rescue was due to the refusal of the residents of the village where they had been left to carry out the orders of the bandits to kill them.

The American troops attempted their rescue.

Mexicans Guard Respectful.

Nomiquipa, Chihuahua, Mexico, May 17.—American residents of this section of Mexico have assured General J. J. Pershing, commander of the expedition, that the Mexicans guard respectful to the United States soldiers to a degree not existing for five years.

Some of the Mexicans had sneered at the fighting ability of the Americans, some of them honestly believing that the United States soldiers were afraid to engage any Mexican bandit. After the capture of the Big Bend bandits, however, signs of the growing respect on the part of the natives, became more and more manifest.

Posse Pursues Murderers.

San Angelo, Texas, May 17.—A posse of citizens and officers were still pursuing today the two Mexicans who on Tuesday killed David B. Crank, a Cocker county rancher. The horses taken from his ranch have been found some distance from his home. It was said today that Crank had quarreled with the Mexicans and they had stopped at his ranch and that they then shot him.

Kill Chinese Merchants.

Columbus, N. M., May 17.—Stories of slaughter of ten Chinese merchants at San Antonio, Mexico, by persons believed to be followers of Villa, were brought to the border today by returning truckmen. According to the stories, the Chinese had been selling supplies to the Americans and were killed immediately after withdrawal of the American troops.

MICHIGAN TO SEND WILSON DELEGATION

Democrats Line Up Solidly for Renomination of Wilson.—Doremus Delivers Keynote Speech.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Lansing, Mich., May 17.—Democrats of Michigan solidly supporting the renomination of President Wilson, met in state convention here today. Leaders declared the gathering would be entirely harmonious, but uneventful. Speeches of the thirteen state districts will elect two delegates and two alternates to national convention. Four delegates at large and four alternates also will be made.

President Wilson as the man "who with infinite patience, quiet courage and mastery of ability, and without sacrifice of national honor, has successfully guided his country through the darkest days of its history," was the keynote of the campaign. Chairman of the Michigan Democratic campaign committee, as temporary chairman, addressed the convention. His speech was regarded as keynote of his party's campaign in the state, replete with comparison of republican policies and democratic practices. He urged the democratic tariff as a more equitable one than the republican one. He spoke in glowing terms of the operation of the federal reserve banks, and declared that never before had the country been so prosperous.

Early in his speech he declared the satisfaction of Michigan Democrats with Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris, and urged his re-election.

Referring to President Wilson's efforts to preserve peace, the speaker said: "In a time like this the continued observance of well established rights of neutrals makes for peace. The continued violation of those rights, leads to war. This being true, it follows that he who insists upon a strict adherence to principles of international law seeks to avoid the cause of peace and becomes the true friend of peace."

"Such a friend of peace is Woodrow Wilson, who for nearly two years through the shifting winds of circumstances and cross currents of vituperation and calumny, has sought to keep our ship of state with its 100,000,000 passengers, off the cruel rocks of war."

"True, there has been more or less mutiny on board, but much of this has come from the fact that the ship has been through political misfortune were not captains themselves, or members of the crew."

"It may be that we will have to intervene in Mexico, but we do, it will be in response to a general national duty, and after every honorable means has been employed to avoid it."

NAVY CRUISER GOES AGROUND IN SHOAL

Report That Eight Men Are Lost In Boat During Gale Is Not Official.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Boston, May 17.—The United States cruiser San Francisco, now serving as a mine laying ship, was aground on a shoal in Nantucket Sound for several hours early today in a gale, during which it was reported that eight men were lost. The San Francisco floated later without assistance and was not greatly damaged. Observation from the cutter was impossible because of the rain, and the fate of the eight men reported missing could not be learned.

The San Francisco was bound from this port for Newport, R. I., in company with the cruiser Albany and the cutter Albatross. She ran aground this morning and brought up so hard on the shoal that the commander sent out wireless calls for assistance. The wind was blowing a gale at the time.

The call was quickly answered. The battleship New Hampshire replied she would proceed at "the earliest moment and highest possible speed." Private criticism made it possible. Coast guard cutters proceeded to her aid and were on their way to the stranded vessel when message announcing she had been floated reached the shore.

Commander Belknap stated she was in no danger.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Boston, May 17.—The probable loss of eight men from the United States cruiser San Francisco, after the cruiser was aground on Great Round Shoal in Vineyard Sound early today, was reported by wireless here. A gale was blowing, the advices say. The battleship New Hampshire, the coast guard cutters, Albatross and the submarine tender, Melville, were ordered to her assistance from various points on the coast.

A wireless message from the San Francisco to the Charleston Navy Yard, says she was "in need of immediate assistance for tow and lighting."

This message, the only one received at the local yard, directed from the San Francisco, made no mention of the loss of any men. A radiogram saying that a whole boat which was launched from the cruiser was lost, was received at the yard, which had no immediate means of obtaining direct information from the San Francisco.

METHODIST MERGER UNANIMOUSLY VOTED

General Conference in Wild Applause When Decision Is Taken to Unite With Church in the South.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 17.—After seven years of division the Methodist Episcopal church of the United States today is one church governed by one conference. The vote for a merger with the church of the South was taken by a vote of 1,000 to 1,000. Amidst scenes of enthusiasm as was seldom witnessed in a religious assembly, the tentative plan of the two churches, with a few minor modifications, was accepted and a commission appointed to carry it into effect.

The report of the special committee, which had included the most notable leaders of the denomination, was presented by Dr. John F. Goucher of Baltimore. When Dr. Goucher had finished his report there was a mighty shout for the union of the two churches, and it was unanimously adopted.

A resolution was unanimously adopted instructing the committee to call, organize and direct the holding of a national conference at Madison, at some date to be fixed by them, preferably after the republican national convention shall be held for the purpose of recommending state candidates for officers, for the consideration of and acting upon a platform, and for the purposes of doing each and every thing necessary and proper for the reorganization of the republican party in Wisconsin.

London telephone wires suffered considerably, but the main trouble is in the country, where whole areas have been swept clear.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, May 17.—President Wilson has replied to the message sent him recently by Pope Benedict in which the Pope expressed the earnest hope that the United States and Germany would not be precipitated by the submarine issue, and conveyed the impression that he believed the United States might be of assistance ultimately in restoring peace to Europe.

The reply of the president was conveyed through Mr. Bonzano, the apostolic delegate here, who delivered the Pope's message to the White House.

And When Varsity Freshmen Go to Formal Parties Without Traditional Cap They Meet Trouble.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

John pleaded that as an adjunct to formal attire the green cap was not good. One said he left his green headpiece at home when he took a party of ladies automobilizing.

Stanley R. Clague went automobilizing with party of men and women without wearing the headgear, and because he attended the formal Harvard performance wearing an opera hat, with his formal clothes. Roland R. Haid is charged with breaking the cap tradition.

FORMER RESIDENT IS NOW EDITOR OF THE WESTERN CATHOLIC

J. A. M. Richey, Former Episcopal Rector at Trinity Church, Has Become a Catholic.

Janesville friends of J. A. M. Richey, who for many years was rector of the Trinity Episcopal parish in this city, will be interested to learn that he has joined the Catholic church and is now located at Quincy, Illinois, where he is managing editor of the Western Catholic, a noted Catholic publication. In an editorial announcing Mr. Richey's association with the paper, the following words of praise will be read with interest:

"Mr. A. M. Richey, formerly an Episcopal clergyman and the founder, manager and editor of 'The American Catholic,' the organ of the High Church party in the Episcopal church, who was received into Holy church on the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, 1910, by the Most Reverend, the Archbishop of St. Louis, with Rev. M. J. Foley, editor of 'The Western Catholic,' acting as his sponsor, has now become associated with 'The Western Catholic' in the capacity of managing editor."

Mr. Richey's years of experience with a paper of his own will make him a valuable acquisition to 'The Western Catholic.' He speaks with deep appreciation of the year spent at Old Kenrick Seminary in St. Louis, as having given him that, without which, he would never have felt completely fledged. We can say for Mr. Richey, however, that he is established and settled in the true faith and is a loyal Catholic, his chief ambition being to make himself useful to Holy church and perchance show the brethren of his former allegiance the way to the One Fold which is the Ark of spiritual safety, the Home of the Truth and the Storehouse of Grace.

"In a previous issue we told of Mr. Richey's progress from Protestantism to the Fold of Peter. We will not repeat that history here and now as we hope at no distant date Mr. Richey will begin a series of brief articles in 'The Western Catholic' illustrating the influences throughout his life which, more or less, unconsciously, evidently had some bearing on his ultimate conversion."

"There are few converts to Holy church who, with a firm grasp of the Catholic religion, can look back on the mazes of Protestantism with more clear perspective. Not only was his grandfather head of the Methodist Conference in Canada for six terms, and his father Senior Canon of the Protestant Episcopal Cathedral in Fond du Lac, but Mr. Richey himself held a position of prominence in the Episcopal church as editor-in-chief of 'The American Catholic,' habitually read by High Church Bishops, clergy and laity of the Episcopal church of the United States."

From the land of Acadia (now Nova Scotia) the scene of Longfellow's Evangeline, where he spent his early youth, to Southern California, the diocese then ruled over by the most humble and eloquent Bishop Conaty, or when he has always had a warm admiration, Mr. Richey can call a long succession of seemingly

INCIDENTAL CONTACTS WITH THE CATHOLIC CHURCH, ALL OF WHICH, AS IT NOW APPEARS TO HIM, CONTRIBUTED TO HIS FINAL DECISION ON THAT DAY AND HOUR WHEN HE SAID HE 'HAD TO SAY YES OR NO TO GOD.'

We are confident in saying that Mr. Richey will devote himself to his work and that the readers of 'The Western Catholic' will already have noted some features of improvement in the make-up of the paper, due to Mr. Richey's recent initiative."

The Phantom Lake camp, Milwaukee, will open for its third season from June 19th to August 23d; the Chain O' Lakes camp at Waupaca will be open for its fourth season from August 17th to 21st, and the Surgeon Bay camp, known as the Cherry Picker's camp, will be open for its third season from July 6th to the 28th. In addition, this year, there will be a camp maintained by the state Y. M. C. A. on the fair grounds, West Allis, Wis., from September 11th to 15th, while the big state fair is in progress.

L. A. Markham, secretary of the Rock county work, and H. J. Center, secretary of the local association, can be consulted by those interested, for information about the camps. Applications must be made, and the registration fee of one dollar being required, or fifty cents if application is made before June 15th. Boys twelve to eighteen years of age, properly endorsed, may apply. The fees for the Phantom and Waupaca camps are five dollars a week.

The same high standard of supervision of the boys will be maintained as in other years. First-class meals are served and the best equipment is available. Permanent buildings and tents are used to house the campers, and instruction will be given in swimming, boating, life-saving and in sports, games and all sorts of athletic. Interesting lectures will be offered from time to time. A camp library is available and a program of musical and other entertainments has been arranged for.

As the two main camps have accommodations for only one hundred and twenty-five, and during the past years waiting lists have had to be made for those beyond that number, parents are urged to act promptly in making reservations for their boys.

THEODORE DAVEY GIVEN SAME SENTENCE AS WAS GIVEN ROBERT KENNING

Theodore Davey, the fourth youth charged with larceny at the Y. M. C. A., pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny before Judge Maxfield yesterday afternoon, between four and five o'clock. He was paroled for thirty days to his father, this being the same sentence as was imposed on Robert Kenning.

NO SUMMER SCHOOL WILL BE HELD AT HIGH SCHOOL THIS SUMMER VACATION

There will be no summer school at the high school during the coming annual summer vacation. The authorities reached this conclusion this morning after canvassing the school to see how many of the students would take up the work. Forty or fifty students were willing to join different classes, but there were so many subjects that they wanted to take up that it would be impossible for the school board to hire teachers for each one or two classes. It might be organized if enough pupils denote their intentions to enroll.

EXCHANGE PRISONERS HOPELESSLY WOUNDED

RUSSIA AND GERMANY TRADE
MUTILATED MEN THROUGH
SWEDISH RED CROSS.

PITIFUL STORIES TOLD

Those Who Favor War Might Read
Tales Told by Crippled Men and
Then Think of Shouldering
Musket.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Stockholm, Sweden, May 17.—Clad in great coats of West Point gray, the first of the hopelessly wounded German and Austrian prisoners of war passed out of Russia this year, passed through Sweden a few days ago in exchange for the helpless and hapless Russians who had been sent home from the German hospital camps. The Austrians and Germans were a more cheerful lot than the solid, silent Russians and seemed to have a more definite idea of their future life.

"It is nothing," said one young Austrian with his right leg gone and two fearful scars on his face, "I am a jeweler by trade and my hand saws as good as over."

The exchange of wounded prisoners undertaken by the Swedish Red Cross is a gigantic affair. Effective May 15, three trains running weekly in each direction from the Finnish frontier to the southern reaches of the Baltic carry the men so hopelessly maimed up that the warring nations are glad to be rid of them. Some statistics claim to have knowledge of the situation has declared that with trains running daily all the year round it would take ten years to complete the transport of the human wastrel of war now held in Russia and Germany.

Millions of Prisoners.
One of the wounded Austrians on the first train coming from Russia was asked how many of his comrades were left behind in Russia.

"Oh," he replied, "there must be a million of them."
This prisoner said he had been "all over Russia" and that few war prisoners, either wounded or whole of skin and limb, were permitted to remain in one camp more than a month or two. He was wounded in August last and said he must have been in every hospital camp from Vladivostok to Petrograd.
There was one young soldier from Prague, Bohemia, who had a terrible experience. He was in the cavalry and was riding in a charge when a shell burst just beneath him. The horse was killed and the driver was wounded twenty-one times. Seven times he was placed on the operating table. He emerged with one leg gone and the other broken, but he twisted that it but little resembled human form.
And yet the man had pleaded with the doctors for that remnant of a limb. They wanted to cut it off, too, as well as my right hand, but I heard them talking and I said, "Please, good Mr. Doctor, don't cut off my other leg and my hand! At last they let me go."
The hand was scarred in many places, but seemed otherwise to be perfectly useful. But in time of war amputation is such an effective and expeditious treatment.
Each man of the 227 on board the train from Russia had his own thrilling story to tell. Each one had tasted the utmost of the bitterness of war and some seemed so badly maimed and mangled that even death had refused to accept them.
Welcomed Death.
There was one poor fellow moving about the train with sheepskin pads on his knees and both feet gone. "Oh, he's good any more," he smiled in broken English when he learned that the Associated Press correspondent on board the hospital train was an American.
"And a boom, boom, boom no good either," he added, mimicking the roar of battle. This man had lain wounded for days with his feet in a half frozen stream. When found he was more dead than alive. Up to the time he lost consciousness he said he must have been lying out of doors for six or seven days. All this time he heard the screech and roar of shells passing above his head and occasionally exploding about him. Any one of them, he said, would have been a welcome end to his agony. But now he was smiling and cheerful on his way home. He did not know what he could do when he got there for he had been a horse-shoer by trade and a horse-shoer without feet is not of much account.

Some of the prisoners complained bitterly of their treatment, but the more intelligent of the wounded soldiers declared that while their lots had been hard they realized the Russians had done all they possibly could under the circumstances. There were the days of exposure on the battlefield which could not be helped, the poor field accommodations for the wounded, who had to be cared for in far greater numbers than anyone had ever anticipated, and the hours of neglect due to the fact that the doctors had more work than they could possibly handle.

One prisoner said he lay on the floor of a house or stable for two days and the only soft thing about him was his own blood. His uniform had been entirely shot away by the explosive which had broken his leg. Some of the soldiers said they had been robbed by Cossacks as they lay wounded in the field, money and little trinkets of jewelry being ruthlessly snatched from them. One of the wounded Austrians said, for the wounded to turn their pockets inside out as they lay upon the frozen ground to show they had nothing and thus escape a heavy prison.

The Swedish doctors in charge of the hospital trains listen to these stories with indulgent smiles. They say undoubtedly there have been cases of great hardship but the wounded soldier as a rule is very keen for sympathy and talks accordingly.

Cases of Disease.
There were two pitiful cases of tuberculosis on the train. The signs of life were fast running out of the glass for one of these, but he seemed to grow a bit stronger as the train neared Treleborg, where the prisoners were to be transferred to a German hospital transport.

"It will be so good to get home," he sighed.
But the poor devil never will get there," said the doctor, the prisoners coming from Russia are kept outside Hamburg for a month as a rule to guard against the importation of any infectious disease. They are not taken to Berlin, for it is said here the Germans do not wish wounded men on the streets of the capital.

The other prisoner far along in the relentless grip of consumption, had also suffered the same fate. He said he had a wife and three children at home and he did not know how he could ever provide for them.

The invalid transport trains passing through Sweden, the one from Stockholm and the Swedish people as a whole see very little of the wounded men. The nearest approach to Stockholm is at Halesberg, where the main detrain for the first train from Russia came into Halesberg; the military attaché of the Austrian legation in Stockholm was at the station. The train platforms were crowded with curious on-lookers with arms torn away. It was pitiful to see the poor cripples straighten up and salute with such hands as they had left when they caught sight of the officer in full uniform.

The attaché and representatives of the German legation distributed cigarettes, cigars, newspapers and German weeklies to the men on the train.
And to each an envelope was handed with especial ceremony. These envelopes were found to contain picture postcards of Emperor William of Germany, Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria and Field Marshal von Hindenburg.

Sang National Airs.
After dinner there were songs of the Fatherland, sung with lusty German voices. When the singing began the maimed soldiers came hopping to the song circle as fast as crutches and heavy canes could help them. They gave cheer after cheer and stood with heads uncovered as they chorused "The Watch on the Rhine."

The Swedish Red Cross has splendidly organized the work of transporting the prisoners between Russia and Germany and every prisoner who has made the journey across has been warm in his praise of the comforts provided for him. Each train is in charge of the surgeon of the Swedish army and there are special nurses and orderlies. Each train is provided with an operating room and a recovery room. The operation is deemed necessary the train is stopped while it is performed. The governments of Russia and Germany pay for the expense of the transport of the prisoners, the Red Cross handling all the accounts. The journey is a long one and the work of exchange is expensive. It is not so expensive, however, as continuing to care for the helpless prisoners.

PEACE FOR "DEMS" AT PENN. PRIMARY

Movement to Wrest Republican Leadership From Penrose—Wilson Is Endorsed.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Harrisburg, Pa., May 17.—Controlling organizations of both the leading political parties in Pennsylvania go to the primary polls today to defend their titles.

The movement to wrest the Republican leadership from Boies Penrose, senior United States senator, is headed by Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh. He is backed by the Philadelphia faction controlled by Congressman William Vandehey.

On the Democratic side the leadership of National Committeeman A. J. Fisher, former congressman, is challenged by Congressman Michael Liebel of Erie.

The statewide primary law enacted in 1914 was used in a presidential campaign last year. Only three presidential candidates are on the preference ballot. The law allows a candidate for national delegates to pledge itself on the ballot only to the support of a popular choice for president in his district.

President Wilson will be unopposed. Governor Brumbaugh is the only Republican candidate for president. None of the "Brumbaugh" candidates for delegate are pledged. None of the Penrose candidates is pledged. Penrose is making his play for eighty-six electoral delegates.

Allen D. Benson, Socialist, is the other presidential candidate. Palmer is on the ballot as a candidate for re-election as Democratic national committeeman.

The only one in Pennsylvania which has rules compelling election of a national committeeman at the polls today. The other parties attend to that at the national convention.

Congressman Liebel personally is running against Palmer.

Only the Democrats have a contest for the nomination for United States senator to succeed George T. Oliver of Pittsburgh. Judge E. L. Orvis of Centre county is the Palmer candidate. Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell of Philadelphia, the Liebel candidate.

Philip H. Knox of Pittsburgh, former United States senator, former United States attorney general and former United States secretary of state, will get the Republican nomination. Mahlon H. Meyers of Johnstown will get the Progressive nomination.

All Progressive delegates will go to the Chicago convention unopposed. They are forty-five of them, due to different rules of the Republicans and Democrats have.

Both the Penrose and Palmer organizations declare that they will control the state committee elected today, consisting of 113 members under the state law. For instance, the candidates pledged to him to have no opposition. Palmer claims fifty-seven.

A light vote is predicted today. Voting will require much time. On the Republican ballot, for instance, the voter must pick twelve men for delegate-at-large from a list of twenty-six names, arranged alphabetically, with nothing whatever to guide him. From the Brumbaugh men from Penrose men. The same is true concerning other offices and other ballots.

INTERNATIONAL JUDICIAL COURT TO SETTLE DISPUTES ARISING BETWEEN NATIONS

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Nobonk Lake, N. Y., May 17.—Former Ambassador to Germany Andrew D. White will outline the possibilities of establishing an international judicial court to settle disputes between countries and prevent future wars at the Conference on International Arbitration which began here today.

While the conduct of the European war is not the subject of discussion, the program includes questions of neutral rights and duties, and other issues created or emphasized by the war. Fifty prominent chambers of commerce and boards of trade, including the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the National Association of Manufacturers, have official delegates here.

The relation of large national armaments to arbitral and judicial settlement of international disputes will also have a place on the program.

Former President Taft and other Americans will also try to learn what influence world commerce and finance has on the frequency and duration of modern wars.

Other subjects, including pan-American trade, will be discussed by men as Walter S. Penfield, Alpheus E. Shaw of Washington, Ministers Calderon of Bolivia and Chamorro of Nicaragua, Oscar Straus, Lyman Abbott, Theodore Marburg, Alfred Pomeroy, William P. Borland, John C. Reese of Maryland and Charles A. Woods of South Carolina. Judge J. B. Moore of Michigan, Herbert L. Bridgman of the Brooklyn Standard Union, Hamilton Holt of the Independent, William Dudley Foulke of Indiana, and Wendham R. Meredith of Virginia, William L. Carpenter of Detroit, Fred S. Ball of Alabama and E. P. Marshall of Cincinnati.

FRANCE IS SATISFIED WITH CHINESE LABOR AND WILL IMPORT MORE MEN

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Paris, May 17.—The experiment made in France with Chinese labor to replace men withdrawn from factory and farm work by the war, has been so helpful from an economic point of view as to incite an extension of the experiment. The senate army committee has reported favorably upon a proposition to employ labor from France's Chinese colonies of Annam, Cochinchina and Tonkin, in all industries working for the government and in the fields wherever farm help is needed. Fifty thousand Annamites altogether are either at work in France or waiting in French ports to be sent to destination, or on the way.

The senate committee proposes to bring 100,000 more Chinese. The North African colony of Algeria and the protectorates of Morocco and Tunisia, as it is pointed out by Henry Berenger, a leading member of the army committee, are able to furnish 100,000 Berberes and Kabyle workers, with 80,000 at least could be drawn from Madagascar. With the 280,000 colonial soldiers incorporated in the French army since August 1914, these 280,000 workers would bring up to 560,000 the number of Chinese, Arabs, Berberes and Kabyles brought to France by the war.

The social consequences of this heavy importation of Chinese labor have not apparently preoccupied either the members of the committee of the army that has been studying the question or the general public. The 50,000 Chinese, whose utilization is already provided for, come under a contract for three years, which stipulates that after the war is over these oriental workmen may be employed in any other colonial possession outside of France. This is the only feature of the experiment suggesting apprehension that, after the war is over, and the necessity for the substitution of imported labor has passed, a social question will be acquired in the deportation of the colonial labor.

COMMON AMERICAN BIRDS

INTERESTING INFORMATION ABOUT THEM SUPPLIED BY THE BUREAU OF BIOLOGICAL SURVEY OF THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

ARKANSAS KINGBIRD
Tyrannus verticalis

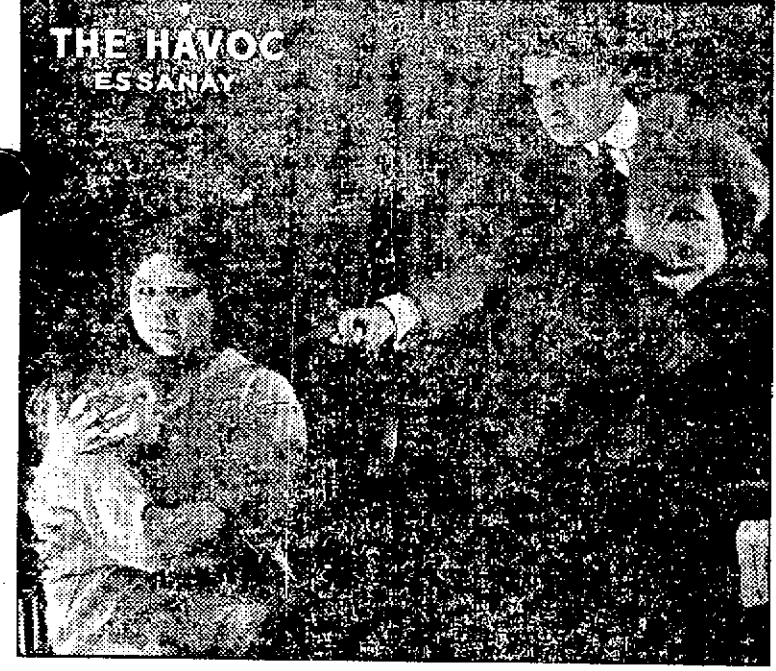

Length, nine inches. The white edge of the feather on each side of the tail distinguishes this from all other flycatchers except the gray and salmon-colored scissortail of Texas.

Range: Breeds from Minnesota, Kansas, and Texas to the Pacific ocean and from northern Mexico to southern Canada; winters from Mexico to Guatemala.

Habits and economic status: The Arkansas kingbird is not so domestic as its eastern relative and seems to prefer the hill country with scattered oaks rather than the orchard or the vicinity of ranch buildings, but it sometimes nests in trees on village streets. The bird's yearly food is composed of 87 per cent animal matter and 13 per cent vegetable. The animal food is composed almost entirely of insects. Like the eastern species, it has been accused of destroying honeybees to a harmful extent, and remains of honeybees were found to constitute five per cent of the food of the individuals examined, but nearly all those eaten were drones. Bees and wasps, in general, are the biggest item of food (35 per cent), grasshoppers and crickets stand next (20 per cent), and beetles, mostly of noxious species, constitute 14 per cent of the food. The vegetable food consists mostly of fruit, such as the elder and other berries, with a few seeds. This bird should be strictly preserved.

GLADYS HANSON IN "THE HAVOC," AT THE BEVERLY, THURSDAY.

Conducted By A. S. Bennett

Something To Write About

Here's a picture for the boy or girl who likes natural history to write about. If I should tell you that this funny animal, who looks as though he had a silk hat on for a nose, was named "Or-with-a-rhynus enatus," do you think you could find out about it? Well, here's another name—"Duck-billed Platypus." Now you can find out about him. The funny thing about "Platy" is that "Mrs. Platy" lays eggs and hatches them. Isn't that queer? And there's only one other animal that does anything like that. Just read about them, and see how interesting they are.

Whitewater News

Whitewater, May 17.—A family reunion was held Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Saukerson, at their home, corner of Newcomb and State streets, the occasion being the sixtieth wedding anniversary. All their children and grandchildren and great-grandchildren were present, numbering about thirty-five, who spent the day and made the occasion a happy one for the aged couple. Nine children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Saukerson, eight of whom are living and were present. They are: Mrs. Jas. Randall of Richmond, Ill.; Mrs. Josh. Thayer of Palmyra; Mrs. Louise Hicks, Mrs. Mary Tuck, Mrs. A. H. Tubbs and Miss Essie Saukerson; and Otto, who lives on the home farm, between here and Palmyra, and Sam, who lives at home. Mr. and Mrs. Saukerson have always lived around Palmyra and Whitewater. They are in good health and enjoy life. Another guest present on this occasion was Chris. Oleson, and only brother of Mrs. Saukerson, who now lives in Palmyra, and who stood up with Mr. and Mrs. Saukerson when they were married.

Willie Shoemaker of Janesville was a business caller in Whitewater yesterday.

Elsie Mills, who works for the Doyon-Rayne Lumber company met with a serious accident yesterday morning. He was on his first load out from the yard in the morning. It was a load of shingles, and he was delivering them to the east side of town. The bundle of shingles he was sitting on began to slip and in spite of all that he could do carried him with it, frightening the horses. He was landed in the lines and of course was dragged some distance. He came out of the accident with a bone broken in his left wrist, his little finger of his right hand broken, his ankle sprained and his face scratched considerably. It was a narrow escape and Mills was lucky getting out of it with no more serious injury.

G. W. Coppins was in Milwaukee yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Peterson and two daughters, and the Misses Florence and Helen Todd of Aurora, Ill., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Fryer.

Mrs. Peter Fero and son, Clyde, returned Saturday from Jacksonville, Florida, where they have been spending the winter. Clyde was employed in the orchestra of one of the big theatres there.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Willey and children motored from Sharon Friday to attend the contest here and visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hanson.

Misses Shepard and Sahli returned to Sharon yesterday after spending Saturday and Sunday here.

The teachers in the public school at Evansville from here will not remain there next year. Miss Beth Ingalls will go to Berwyn, Ill., a suburb of Chicago, to teach. Miss Jan Calvert will be associated with the Pratt Art school in New York City. Miss Anna Taft will remain at home.

Selma Pungel of Fort Atkinson visited Miss Jessie Campbell from Friday night until Sunday.

John Wood of Milton made a short visit here Tuesday.

During the storm Sunday afternoon lightning struck the chimney on the home of W. H. Kroph and cracked it the whole length.

NEWS NOTES from MOVIELAND

Photoplay fans who remember G. M. Anderson and his famous "Broncho Billy" series, will not fail to recall the delightful little lady who played opposite him in his cowboy pictures. She is Marguerite Clayton, and since Anderson quit pictures she has been playing leads in multiple reel features like "A Daughter of the City" and "Virtues of Society."

Miss Clayton is an extremely pretty girl with a remarkable head of golden hair and with blue eyes. She was born in Salt Lake City in 1896, and upon graduating from a convent school in 1915 was almost immediately engaged by Anderson for the feminine lead in the western dramas. Late in 1915 she was transferred to the studio in Chicago.

Miss Clayton finds the saddle her principal pleasure. She is known about the studios as the girl with the million dollar smile. Her motto is, "Keep Smiling."

CHAMPION "NUT" HAS BEEN FOUND

Of all the various brands of "nuts" the action picture scenario writing "nut" stands supreme. Like any other film star Clara Kimball Young receives hundreds of queer manuscripts fondly labeled "scenarios" but one that came in last week deserves special attention. In fact it wasn't a scenario but a letter about one entitled "Detained in a Mad House, or the Adventures of Bessie."

The writer didn't send the story, he said, because he didn't trust the mails. "But," he said, "if you want to come and see me I will send it to you." The postmark was Lebanon, Pa.

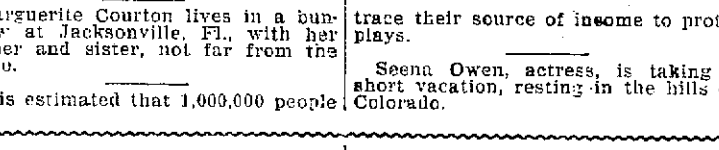

The man who teaches the science of staying on top of the water, or Myron on the surface, is indeed one to be envied in Santa Barbara. All the charming little leading ladies visit the "Baths" regularly each afternoon, and the attractive, though business-like suits, and learn to swim.

Gladys Hanson is married to Charles Emerson Cook. The wedding took place in Atlanta, Ga. Mr. and Mrs. Cook will live in New York.

Marguerite Clayton lives in a bungalow at Jacksonville, Fla., with her mother and sister, not far from the studio.

It is estimated that 1,000,000 people trace their source of income to photoplays.

Seena Owen, actress, is taking a short vacation, resting in the hills of Colorado.

Marguerite Clayton.

She is favorably known for her work in "A Daughter of the City" and "Virtues of Society," high class multiple reel photoplays; also for her work opposite G. M. Anderson in the "Broncho Billy" series.

AT MYERS THEATRE.

"This is the Life." Halton Powell's latest and best song and dance play, will be the attraction at the Myers theatre next Saturday, matinee and night. This stellar attraction is considered to be one of the best of its kind to travel. Music and song combined in a delightful way and the funny scenes, situations and comedians in the play, will keep you laughing continually. It is seldom, if ever, that a company visits us that is so highly endorsed both by the press and public as in Halton Powell's "This is the Life."

AT MYERS THEATRE.

The Myers theatre presents Wilbur H. Durborough, official press photographer, May 19 and 21, Friday and Sunday, with his remarkable achievement of motion war pictures, "On the Firing Line with the Germans." Wilbur H. Durborough, whose bravery in this dangerous enterprise has been rewarded with a series of pictures altogether unique in their graphic and literal presentation of the actual scenes of warfare. Mr. Durborough will take us step by step, through all his experiences of his adventurous journey from Chicago to Rotterdam, passing the board of control, thence to Berlin by automobile, showing hospital scenes, prison camps, perils of distinction, the Kaiser, the Kaiserin and daughter, the crown prince and his brothers, and other prominent officials, on through East Prussia, with its signs of war destruction and showing Germany's military hero, Von Hindenburg, and other distinguished officers, then on through the Masurian lake district up into Poland and Gen. Von Hindenburg's central army to the attack and capture of Warsaw, and with Gen. Von Bessler's army to its triumphant assault on the last Russian stronghold in the East. Also the fortress Novo Georgievsk, showing all branches of the German army in action.

Moving picture critics pronounce Mr. Durborough's picture the most wonderful moving picture taken of the war—what is your verdict?

House Peters in a Thrilling Picture. The feature on the screen of the Apollo Theatre on Thursday will be House Peters in the new World Film production, "The Hand of Peril." This thrilling detective picture was picturized by Director Alice Dineen from the scenario by Arthur Stringer, the noted author of tales of crime detection.

Readers of Mr. Stringer's recent stories have been thrilled by the exploits of one James Foster, government secret agent, in his adventurous exploits in running down malefactors of all kinds. The hero of these remarkable tales is the central character in "The Hand of Peril" and throughout the five reels of stirring action he towers supreme above all other detective characters yet seen on the screen.

The picture includes a number of remarkable mechanical devices that add to its thrilling character, and stage effects never before attempted by a motion picture director. In support of Mr. Peters, the Paragon Films, Inc., has provided a remarkable cast, including such international screen favorites as June Elvidge, Ralph Delmore, Doris Sawyer and Ray Pilcer.

Famous French Classic "Undine" in Picture.

Those who remember the fairy tales of their youth will hail with joy the announcement that the Apollo theatre on Friday will present the Bluebird Photoplay Feature, "Undine." The story of the film is drawn from Pierre De La Motte Fouquet's French classic of the same title—one of the most beautiful and abiding fairy tales of all time. Half in water and half on shore, the many and varied scenes of the screen play present opportunities for spectacular and impelling pictures of pretty fancy which have been fully realized in the art and invention of the photoplay producer.

Miss Ida Schnall, famous athlete and swimmer, beautiful of face and divinely formed, was entrusted with the important role of "Undine" and her acting upon land and her wonderful expertness in swimming, diving and cavorting in the water has fully realized the requirements of the role. With her are a score of beautiful girls, expert swimmers, who constitute the attendants upon Queen Undine and form a bevy of physical loveliness never so profusely adorned that their freedom of action is restricted by the conventionalities of styles in dress.

and now being shown at the Beverly. The play is replete with tense situations and big emotional scenes that make it one of the most thrilling stories ever filmed. S. Rankin Drew, Virginia Pearson, George Cooper, Ned Finley, Billie Billings and other prominent members of the Vitaphone portray the leading roles.

The blowing up of a mountain, a landslide in which tons upon tons of earth, trees and huge boulders crash down the mountain side, and a fall from a cliff into a turbulent mountain stream and some of the most realistic hand to hand fights ever photographed form part of this film sensation.

"The Regeneration," Picturing Gangster Life in Large Cities, Shown at the Beverly.

In "The Regeneration," which William Fox picturized from Owen Kildare's story by the same name, the Beverly audience last night could not exactly find opportunity to express their appreciation of any certain beauty of elevating nature, shown in the outward appearance of the picture, although at the last a few verbal preachment were thrown upon the screen to smooth over some of the rough impressions gained in its many gruesome settings. The story runs to the melodramatic in many spots and called for strong work on the part of every member of the company though, which should be appreciated. The theme treats of a social problem with caste as the keynote, and tends to show that it is barely possible to raise a man from the slums, but that a union between a man of the underworld and a woman of a higher class would tend to degrade her rather than elevate him. It may be well to point out of such a fact, if we are in ignorance of its impossibilities, but why picture it as amusement. "The Regeneration" is a play that does not appeal strongly to the better class of people, it does not entertain, the story is nothing to speak of, and one feels depressed after viewing it.

Had Terrible Pains in Kidneys and Back.

Dear Mr. Editor—I want to write you about "Anurie." I was very sick, could hardly be up; I was in bed most of the time. Had terrible pains in my kidneys and back, so much so that I had to scream sometimes when I was sitting down and wanted to get up, the pain was so great. I had tried a well-known kidney medicine but it didn't help me. I heard of Dr. Pierce's Anurie Tablets so I thought I would try them. I took only one box of the Tablets, and my back is now free from pain and I can work and take care of my family. I feel I cannot say enough for this medicine. Sincerely, Mrs. Wm. Kellen.

NOTE: This "Anurie" is adapted especially for kidney complaints and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, weak back, rheumatism, dropsy, congestion of the kidneys, inflammation of the bladder, scalding urine and urinary troubles. The physicians and specialists at Dr. Pierce's Great Institution, at Buffalo, N. Y., have thoroughly tested this prescription and have been with one accord successful in eradicating these troubles, and in most cases absolutely curing the diseased kidneys. Patients having once used "Anurie," at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, have repeatedly sent back for more. Such a demand has been created that Dr. Pierce has decided to put "Anurie" in the drug stores of this country, in a ready-to-use form. If not obtainable send one dime by mail to Dr. Pierce for trial package or 50 cents for full treatment.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood purifier and alternative that starts the liver and stomach into vigorous action. It thus assists the body to make rich, red blood, which feeds the heart, nerves, brain and organs of the body. You feel clean, strong and strenuous.

Calcium's Value in Tuberculosis

As a tonic and remedial agent in the treatment of tuberculosis, this element is being studied by scientists and physicians everywhere. For more than two decades users of Eckman's Alternative have tested its efficacy in such cases, for calcium chloride is one of the chief constituents of this preparation, which has produced beneficial results in thousands of instances. And in this form it is so combined as to be easily assimilated. If you are thus afflicted, a trial may prove this to be just what is needed to assist Nature in bringing about a return to normal health. It is safe to take, because it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs of any sort. At your druggist's. Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia.

"No! I won't talk it over! Stop pulling me! Let me alone!" And Edith, flinging herself violently upon Bibbs' door, jerked it open, swung round it into the room, slammed the door behind her, and threw herself, face down, upon the bed in such a riot of emotion that she had no perception of Bibbs' presence in the room. Gasping and sobbing in a passion of tears, she beat the coverlet and pillows with her clenched fists. "Sneak!" she babbled aloud. "Sneak! Sneak-in-the-grass! Cat!"

Bibbs saw that she did not know he was there, and he went softly toward the door, hoping to get away before she became aware of him; but some sound of his movement reached her, and she sat up, startled, facing him. "Bibbs! I thought I saw you go out a while ago."

"Yes, I came back, though. I'm sorry."

"Did you hear me quarreling with Sibyl?"

"Only what you said in the hall. You lie down again, Edith. I'm going out."

"No, don't go." She applied a handkerchief to her eyes, emitted a sob, and repeated her request. "Don't go. I don't mind you; you're quiet, anyhow. Mamma's so fussy, and never gets anywhere. I don't mind you at all, but I wish you'd sit down."

"All right." And he returned to his chair beside the trunk. "Go ahead and cry all you want, Edith," he said. "No harm in that."

"Sibyl told mamma—oh!" she began, choking. "Mary Vertrees had mamma and Sibyl and I to tea, one afternoon two weeks or so ago, and she had some women there that Sibyl's been crazy to get in with, and she just laid herself out to make a hit with 'em, and she's been running after 'em ever since, and now she comes over here and says they say Bobby Lamborn is so bad that, even though they like his family, none of the nice people in town would let him in their houses. In the first place, it's a falsehood, and I don't believe a word of it; and in the second place I know the reason she did it, and, what's more, she knows I know it! I won't say what it is—not yet—because papa and all of you would think I'm as crazy as she is snaky; and Roscoe's such a fool he'd probably quit speaking to me. But it's true! Just you watch her; that's all I ask. Just you watch that woman. You'll see!"

did not mention this to his sister, who, after delivering herself of a rather vague jeremiad upon the subject of her sister-in-law's treacheries, departed to her own chamber, leaving him to his speculations.

Mary Vertrees was at that moment wondering what internal excitement Mrs. Roscoe Sheridan was striving to master. But Sibyl had no idea that she was allowing herself to exhibit anything except the gaiety which she conceived proper to the manner of a casual caller. She was no more self-conscious than she was finely intelligent. Sibyl followed her impulses with no reflection or question—it was like a bound on the gallop after a master on horseback. She had not even the instinct to stop and consider her effect. If she wished to make a certain impression she believed that she made it. She believed that she was believed.

"My mother asked me to say that she was sorry she couldn't come down," Mary said, when they were seated.

Sibyl ran the scale of a cooling simulant of laughter, which she had been brought up to consider the polite thing to do after a remark addressed to her by any person with whom she was not on familiar terms. It was intended partly as a courtesy and partly as the foundation for an impression of sweetness.

"Just thought I'd fly in a minute," she said, continuing the cooling to relieve the last doubt of her geniality. "I wanted to tell you how much I enjoyed meeting those nice people at tea that afternoon. You see, coming here a bride, I've had to depend on my husband's friends almost entirely. Mr. Sheridan has been so engrossed in business ever since he was a mere boy, why, of course—"

She paused, with the air of having completed an explanation.

"Of course," said Mary, sympathetically accepting it.

"Yes, I've been seeing quite a lot of the Kittersbys since that afternoon," Sibyl went on. "They're really delightful people. Indeed they are! Yes—"

She stopped with unconscious abruptness, her mind plainly wandering to another matter, and Mary perceived that she had come upon a definite errand.

"Mrs. Kittersby and her daughter were chatting about some of the people here in town the other day," said Sibyl, repeating the cooling and protruding it. "They said something that took me by surprise! We were talking about our mutual friend, Mr. Robert Lamborn—"

Mary interrupted her promptly. "We shouldn't consider Mr. Robert Lamborn a friend of ours."

To her surprise, Sibyl nodded eagerly, as if greatly pleased. "That's just the way Mrs. Kittersby talked," she cried, with a vehemence that made Mary stare. "Yes, and I hear that's the way all you old families here speak of him!"

Mary looked aside, but otherwise she was able to maintain her composure. "I had the impression he was a friend of yours," she said, adding, hastily, "and your husband's."

"Oh, yes," said the caller, absently. "He is, certainly. A man's reputation for a little gaiety oughtn't to make a great difference to married people, of course. It's where young girls are in question. Then it may be very, very dangerous. There are a great many things safe and proper for married people that might be awfully imprudent for a young girl. Don't you agree, Miss Vertrees?"

"I don't know," returned the frank Mary. "Do you mean that you intend to remain a friend of Mr. Lamborn's, but disapprove of Miss Sheridan's doing so?"

"That's it exactly!" was the naive and ardent response of Sibyl. "What I feel about it is that a man with his reputation isn't at all suitable for Edith, and the family ought to be made to understand it. I tell you," she cried, with a sudden access of vehemence, "her father ought to put his foot down!"

Her eyes flashed with a green spark; something seemed to leap out and then retreat, but before Mary had caught a glimpse of it, as one might catch a glimpse of a thing darting forth and then scuttling back into hiding under a bush.

"Of course," said Sibyl, much more composedly, "I hardly need say that it's entirely on Edith's account that I'm worried about this. I'm as fond of Edith as if she was really my sister, and I can't help fretting about it. It would break my heart to have Edith's life spoiled."

This time was off the key, to Mary's ear. Sibyl tried to sing with pathos, but she flatted.

"And Edith's life would be spoiled," Sibyl continued. "It would be a dreadful thing for the whole family. She's the very apple of Father Sheridan's eye, and it would be a horrible thing for him to have her marry a man like Robert Lamborn; but he doesn't know anything about him, and if somebody doesn't tell him, what I'm most afraid of is that Edith might get his consent and hurry on the wedding before he finds out, and then it would be too late. You see, Miss Vertrees, it's very difficult for me to decide just what it's my duty to do."

"I see," said Mary, looking at her thoughtfully. "Does Miss Sheridan seem to—to care very much about him?"

"He's deliberately fascinated her," returned the visitor, beginning to breathe quickly and heavily. She was launched now; her eyes were furious and her voice shook. "He went after her deliberately, the way he does everything; he's as cold-blooded as a fish. All he cares about is his own pleasure, and lately he's decided it would be pleasant to get hold of a piece of real money—and there was Edith! And he'll marry her! He told me so last night. He said he was going to marry her the first minute he could persuade her to it—and little Edith's all ready to be persuaded!" Sibyl's eyes flashed green again. "And he swore he'd do it," she panted. "He swore he'd marry Edith Sheridan, and nothing on earth could stop him!"

And then Mary understood. Her lips parted and she stared at the babbling creature incredulously, a sudden vivid picture in her mind, a canvas of rival. If Sibyl had not dabbled out the word "swore" it might have been less plain.

The poor woman blundered on, wholly unaware of what she had confessed. "You see," she said, more quietly, "whatever's going to be done ought to be done right away. I went over and told Mother Sheridan what I'd heard about Lamborn, but Mother Sheridan's under Edith's thumb, and she's afraid to ever come right out with anything. Father Sheridan'd never in the world let Lamborn come near the house again if he knew his reputation. So, you see, somebody's got to tell him. It isn't a very easy position for me, is it, Miss Vertrees?"

"No," said Mary gravely.

"Well, to be frank," said Sibyl, smiling. "That's why I've come to you."

"To me?" Mary frowned.

Sibyl rippled and cooed again. "There isn't anybody ever made such a hit with Father Sheridan in his life as you have. And of course we all hope you're not going to be exactly an outsider in the affairs of the family." (This sally with another and louder effect of laughter.) "And if it's my duty, why, in a way, I think it might be thought yours, too."

"No, no!" exclaimed Mary, sharply. "Listen," said Sibyl. "Now suppose I go to Father Sheridan with this story, and Edith says it's not true; but suppose I could say: 'All right, if you want proof, ask Miss Vertrees. She came with me, and she's waiting in the next room right now, to—'"

"No, no!" said Mary quickly. "You mustn't—"

"Listen just a minute more," Sibyl urged, confidently. She was on easy ground now, to her own mind, and had no doubt of her success. "Miss Vertrees, listen! Don't you see we ought to do it, you and I? Do you suppose Robert Lamborn cares the snap of his finger for her? Do you suppose a man like him would look at Edith Sheridan if it wasn't for the money?" And again Sibyl's emotion rose to the surface. "I tell you he's after nothing on earth but to get his finger in that old man's money-pile, over there, next door! He'd marry anybody to do it. Marry Edith?" she cried. "I tell you he'd marry their nigger cook for that!"

"No, no!" said Mary quickly. "You mustn't—"

generously, a woman once said to the pensioner: "Don't you think it is very good of Dr. Clarke to look after you like this and give you all these nice things?" Whereupon the pensioner, who was at the moment looking upon the good man's bounty, looked up with his mouth full, and, with an expression of astonishment, asked: "Good of him? Why, what's he for?"

"I see," said Bilkins, "that a French scientist has discovered a method for staving off old age."

"Well, what of it?" demanded Wilkins. "There's nothing new in that. A man can stave off old age by jumping off the Eiffel tower, or dropping a lighted match in a powder barrel while sitting on it, or by rocking the boat when he's out on the water, or by riding over Niagara Falls sitting astride of a log. Those French scientists make me tired with

"Yes; but a public man's attitude toward a candidate may be that of the family toward the head of the house. You don't necessarily think any more of a man because you've got to support him."

FOODS THEY BUILD OR DESTROY

Amazing but rarely suspected truths about the things you eat.

By ALFRED W. McCANN (Copyright, 1916, by Alfred W. McCann.)

CHAPTER 58.

The Germans, consuming enormous quantities of refined foods so popular in America, prove by their complete collapse that thousands of children of poor in the United States owe their physical development to the same cause.

On March 25, 1915, the Kronprinz Wilhelm sank the French passenger steamship Gueledoupe, from Buenos Ayres to Bordeaux. There was more than 1000 people on board the ship, with plenty of food, butter, lard, flour, potatoes, and canned vegetables. The Germans seized it all.

Some of the crew were complaining of weakness and dizziness. The captain of the ship below the waterline. They had never heard of the Maderian poison squad. Many of them were complaining of palpitation of the heart, and they never heard that heart involvement is one of the most marked symptoms of a severe acidosis.

They seemed able to eat, sleep and work and apparently no plague could be traced out of them. They remained in their quarters, plenty of meat, tons of potatoes, and enough sugar, white bread and butter to make another year.

March 25, 1915, the fifty of her crew, "acting queerly" and all of them manifesting a depressing lack of vigor, she sank the British steamer Tamar, from Santos to Havre, sailing 68,000 bags of green coffee, 100,000 of white flour and canned vegetables aboard.

She did not need the fact that there is a balance of acid and base-forming elements in the "ash" contents of all food.

She did not need the fact that in the food seized by her the base-forming elements had been removed for the purpose of "concentrating" the purely commercial reason that they might "keep."

She did not need the fact that after a diet of refined food a mild chronic acidosis is set up which attacks the time salts from the fibrous tissues, muscles, nerves, cartilages and bones.

When the limbs of the German sailors began to swell they did not know that the swelling was due to the abstraction of these time salts with the increased vascularity which follows.

They did not need the fact that loss of lime salts causes irritability and weakness of the muscles, and that the continued loss of lime salts causes confusion into the joints.

They did not know that following these attacks in the progress of which the cartilages soon become involved, and that this condition is in turn followed by thinning and erosion of the articular surfaces, nerves and eventually terminated in paralysis of the muscles.

The Germans were consuming enormous quantities of the refined foods of high caloric value so extensively relied upon by the United States, and they looked in all directions but in the right direction for the cause of their trouble.

They did not know that the abstraction of lime salts is a cause of the most progressive tuberculosis. Their business was to raid.

March 27, 1915, the German cruiser sank the British steamer Coleby, bound from Rosario to St. Vincent, with another cargo of whole wheat in bulk, 100,000 lbs. of flour, butter, potatoes, and other foodstuffs, which were confiscated, but again the precious wheat was sent to the bottom.

Alarming conditions soon began to develop. Symptoms of paralysis, dilated heart, and other acidosis, atrophy of muscles and pain on pressure over nerves, with considerable anemia, were noted. Fifty of the men could not stand on their feet. They were dropping at the rate of two a day. It seemed that a curse had descended upon the cruiser. The entire crew was going rapidly to pieces.

It was evident that the Kronprinz Wilhelm would either be manned by dead bodies in a few more weeks, or she would have to make a run for the nearest port. Her wireless had told her that Newport News had given harbor to her sister ship, the Prinz Elie Friedrich. She would take a desperate chance against the enemy and make the dash.

This is why she was discovered Sunday morning, lying in the James river, with 110,000 lbs. of food, a floating wreck, a hospital ship, a lesson to the American experts in the handling of foodstuffs, and a white bread and other acidosis producing, refined, demineralized, dehydrated, impoverished, foodless foods are the real cause.

Scientific rumormongers far from the point as we shall soon see, had long served to mislead the American public and cloud refined food in a maze of professional ignorance. Of course, there really is a disease called beri-beri, but there is no connecting link between the acidosis of the Kronprinz Wilhelm and the beri-beri of Bilbilid, other than is to be found in the

Mr. Erdman, with rare presence of mind, kept his seat, holding on to the unbroke line with one hand and the milk can with the other, all the time talking to the animal, who when near the school house slackened his speed and enabled the driver to spring from the buggy and secure the broken line.

HUNGARIANS OBJECT TO SUBMARINE WARFARE.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Zurich, Switzerland, May 17.—Hungarians disapprove of Germany's Zeppelin campaign. They object to it both on grounds of humanity and what they consider its uselessness.

Newspapers received here from the most important cities in Hungary are almost unanimous in deprecating such methods. They do not express themselves as freely as if there were no censorship, but the leave no doubt that the Hungarian people oppose this sort of warfare.

"By starting terror into the people of England," says the Hiriap, commenting on Zeppelin activities, "it is thought that the government will suffer but, as we can now see clearly, the raids do not serve the purpose they were intended for, and only result in the annihilation of civilians."

The Pester Lloyd and the Az Ujsag are exceptions. Both are strongly pro German and express themselves concerning air raiding much as does the Berlin press.

Vienna and Budapest publications speak also of the existence in Hungary of what are known in England as "conscientious objectors" to military service.

These are said to be almost without exception of a religious sect called the Nazarenes. While some English "conscientious objectors" have got off altogether, however, and others have been mustered into "non-combatant" units, most of the Nazarenes said to be serving terms of twelve years' imprisonment for refusing to join the colors.

TRADITIONAL HEROISM OF ZOUAVES DISPLAYED.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Paris, May 17.—The traditional heroism of the Zouaves as bravely displayed during the French conquest of Algeria has been revived in the Battle of Verdun, as is shown by an order of the day just issued by the Third Regiment of these fighting units.

Overshadowed, in earlier fighting, through the exploits of Alpine chassours, the Marines and the Chasseurs a Pied, the opportunity of the Zouaves came in an action, "somewhere near Verdun," during the course of which they were instrumental in saving the line. According to this published order Verdun would have been "taken" had it not been for their bravery.

"The Lieutenant-Colonel," says the document, "is happy to bring to the knowledge of the regiment the congratulations that the general commanding the corps has just addressed to him on the subject of the brilliant conduct of the Third Zouaves during the days of February 24, and 25, 1916."

"The general has done the chief of the corps the honor to say on those days the Third Zouaves wrote the most magnificent page in its history, that if the regiment had not been there to stop the enemy the line would have been pierced and Verdun taken."

"The Lieutenant-Colonel is proud to transmit these accolades to his fine regiment; he thanks every man, officers, subalterns and Zouaves for the bravery and energy that enabled them under a bombardment the world unique in the history of the world to stop the enemy and inflict enormous losses upon him."

"France may count upon the Third Zouaves."

Youthful Pilot Shows Unusual Nerve After Accident at New York. Drivers Save Their Mounts.

Indianapolis, May 17.—Eddie Rickenbacher probably had the most sensational escape ever experienced since automobile racing began, at the New York Speedway recently, when Linberg's Delage car crashed into the outer retaining fence at the upper edge of the board oval, throwing him and his mechanic out to their death, and sending the car in a mass of flames down the entire width of the track. Rickenbacher was coming at the wreckage at a speed better than 100 miles per hour. There was no time to delay; the shock at the sight of his rivals being suddenly hurled through the air was enough to shatter the nerve control of the most hardy individual. The wrecked Delage broke in two as it rolled down the track, adding to the difficulties of dodging it. It all happened so quickly that the brains of those who witnessed the tragedy could hardly register it. Rickenbacher did a rare piece of skillful driving, keeping a cool head in an extraordinary crisis, and shot his white car through the smoke and flames between the two broken sections of the wreck. There were still 120 miles of the race to be run before Rickenbacher could relax and rest from the shock. He won with the car he will drive at Indianapolis Speedway May 30, and reports that he is none the worse from his hazardous experience. "It's all part of the game," he said, as though dismissing the subject from his mind, but his close friends say he is deeply moved by the loss of his friend and race rival. It is said the late Bob Burman, who in Indianapolis preparing for this year's speedway race, declared Rickenbacher to be America's greatest race driver. Burman lost his life at Corona race a short time ago. Both Rickenbacher and Linberg were entered at Indianapolis. This makes eight drivers who were seen on the Indianapolis track last year that have been killed since then. Since the New York speedway race the dopesters begin to get a better line of the various drivers and can now dope out about what can be expected at the big event in Indianapolis May 30. Josef Christiaens, with his Sunbeam from England took no chances at New York, but saved his car for the Indianapolis classic. Eddie O'Donnell, who has his heart set upon winning the Indianapolis race, did not even start at New York. Barney Oldfield, who swears he will win the Indianapolis race, kept out of the New York event entirely. Darro Resta started at New York, but did not overwork his car, conserving it for the 300-mile contest at Indianapolis. John Atkes, who won the twenty mile race at New York, but did so without pushing his Peugeot. He has made that distance in eleven minutes flat, which is faster than the time in which he won the race. It is very evident that all the drivers were not overtaxing their cars or themselves, conscious of a terrific speed battle awaiting them on the bricks at Indianapolis. Ralph Mulford, who won the fifty mile race at New York, says his car did not feel the effort, and is expected at Indianapolis soon for practice.

There will be ten cash prizes ranging as follows: Second, $6,000; third, $3,000; fourth, $2,000; fifth, $1,700; sixth, $1,400; seventh, $1,200; eighth, $1,000; ninth, $800; tenth, $600.

TRY OUT PITCHERS IN SUNDAY'S GAME

Flemming, English and Ruth Scheduled to Have Trial at Game With Madison Farbauchs.

Three pitchers are to be tried out by the Cardinals against the crack Madison Farbauchs, who will open the season at the Association diamond Sunday afternoon—if the weather permits. During these stormy, cold days "if" plays a prominent part in the success of staging games. Pete Flemming, local heaver, is due for his trial. Ruth and English are the two other heavies scheduled to work on the mound. On of these last two players will be retained for the rest of the season, and it is reported that both of them are good enough for any hurling staff outside possibly the major leagues, and English had his fling at the "big boys" with the Cardinals. Ruth has been a winner in the league, and English will be the job of pitching Sunday baseball. Janesville with the Cardinals. "Red" Omsby will be the other pitcher to be used on the Cardinal staff, when there is a necessity for a star hurler. Olson and Silverthorn will be the catchers for the Madison game. Providing Silverthorn shows a little sticking ability, he should stick with the Cards for the season, but batting has been a weak point in his playing in the past. For first base the Cardinals have a new player, Harold O'Hara, who played in the Pacific Coast league with Seattle and is now at Chicago, retired from league baseball. Manager Caldwell was fortunate in being able to obtain this player for his infield, as he is one of the leading first basemen in the western coast and a three hundred hitter for three seasons.

"Denny" Blake, Ripley and Phillips are the players for short, second and third. Miller is the only outfielder that has been picked up for certain so far, along with Chamberlain, utility pitcher. What the Cardinals need is good stickers, and that is what they are going after along with pitching strength.

The new Cardinals will have trouble in beating the Madison team, as they are a crack club, and already have an edge on the Janesville club, having played several games while the Cards are in an unorganized state.

Luther Cook may not be good enough for the Yankees, but his record last year indicates he might help some other clubs in need of an outfielder. A man who could hit .271 in 132 games and steal 29 bases in the American league surely should be in demand.

WILL ATTEMPT TO FLY FROM COAST TO COAST IN A NEW AEROPLANE.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 17.—Two thousand feet over Nigger Slough near here today, two men waved adieu to a neck craning throng and headed east toward the Sierra Madre mountains in an aeroplane. Their destination was New York.

Oscar Brindley, veteran air pilot, and A. J. Macy, inventor settled back in their seats, to let the first self-balancing plane in America fly them from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

The two men plan to cover nearly 4,000 miles ending their ride at Minneapolis, L. I., next Sunday. Just six days.

Macy, a Chicago electrical engineer, by the cross country flight plans to demonstrate to the government of France, England and the United States, a mechanism of his own invention which will balance an aeroplane perfectly.

The pilot has but to steer the plane in the desired direction—up or down, to the left or right, then relax and let the automatic equilibrium device keep the plane on a flying level.

Neither Macy or Brindley make any exaggerated claims for the device. "Nothing could be a fairer test than this flight from Los Angeles to New York in six days," they say.

The plane is a hundred-horse power Martin tractor of the military type, especially equipped for the trip. The route taken will be via, Salt Lake, Denver, Omaha, St. Louis, Chicago and New York.

BOTH CHICAGO TEAMS WERE IDLE YESTERDAY

Heinie Zimmerman Appointed Captain of Bruins by Manager Tinker. Shake-Up for the Cubs.

Both Chicago teams were idle Tuesday, the cold weather preventing the Cubs and Giants from clashing at Chicago and the Sox were forced to hang around the hotel at Boston and think about their defeat. The Chicago Nationals are due for a shake-up, according to Manager Tinker, the younger players to replace the veterans in hopes of increasing the speed and feeling strength of the team. For the Brookers, Yerkes will be benched and McCarthy will be tried at second. Tinker, after one attempt, quit playing short and McHugh will draw into Joe Heinie Zimmerman, the temperamental third sacker, was named captain of the Cubs by Tinker, so the National league umpires are purchasing mufflers in case Zimmerman expects his old status and goes on the war-path.

Red Faber is slated to go on the slab against Boston in the last game and then the Sox jump to Philadelphia. Where they hope to check their losing streak.

Washington tamed the Tigers at Washington yesterday, winning 15 to 1, making it three straight over the Detroit clan. New York was over Joecher. Eddie Garrity of Beil broke into the game during the last few innings catching Gallia.

The Phillies took four straight from Cincinnati, winning yesterday, 3 to 2. The Phillies scored their four runs the first two rounds. Baucroft, shortstop for Morn, received an injury to his finger that will keep him out of the game for about two weeks.

COACH STIEHM SUCCEEDS IN INDIANA SPRING STUNTS.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE) Bloomington, Ind., May 17.—Coach Stiehm, after a month's work, now has the spring football squad at Indiana University running so smoothly that it has the appearance of a fall squad working in mid-season form.

Out of forty-four men who signed up in the course, twenty-five are out every day and all appear at least once or twice during the week.

Most of the work thus far has been in the rudiments of the game such as handling the ball, punting, tackling and interference. There has been some scrimmage, but this was called for chiefly in order to improve the work at tackling and interference. A few formations have been tried out, but they were said to have been in minor importance.

The big coach, who is spending his first year at Indiana, having come here last March as director of athletics from the University of Nebraska, where he held a similar position for five years, recognized that the Crimson players are weak in many of the elementary essentials of football but expects to have them in good shape for the opening of the fall term by the end of the present semester.

Many candidates are making excellent showings and there are some who will have to be reckoned with in making out the first string players next fall. There seems to be a wealth of material for the back field positions and, according to present indications, Indiana will have one of the fastest backfields in the conference next season.

GIRL IN RICHMOND PLAYS CENTER FIELD FOR A FAST FACTORY NINE.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) Richmond, Ind., May 17.—Miss Sue Trawofski, having out-classed all her competitors, is now regarded as a fixture in center field for one of the factory baseball teams in the Richmond Commercial league. She will be the only woman player in the league of eight clubs, but she is expected to shine not only in the field, but at bat and on the bases.

Early this spring when the men and boys employed at the factory passed away the noon hour playing baseball, Miss Trawofski joined them and displayed an amazing aptitude for the national game. She showed more skill than a number of men and boys for the outfield position and she was prevailed upon to play the center garden.

SIMPSON SEEMS TO HAVE HIS RECORD RECOGNIZED.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) Columbia, Mo., May 17.—Formal applications to the National Amateur Athletic Union to recognize the new world's record in the 120-yard hurdles made by Robert Simpson of Missouri University in the track meet with Iowa State College will be filed by the Missouri University authorities.

Simpson made a new record of 14.5 seconds. The previous record—15 seconds flat—was made by Simpson at the Missouri Valley Conference and the Western Conference games last year, and at the Pennsylvania meet this year.

BADGERS DEFEAT IOWA BY SCORE OF 12 TO 9

Madison, Wis., May 17.—Camp Randall was too cold a place for the Iowa ball team to perform in their best shape on Tuesday and Lefty Neusswander, pitching his first home game for the Badgers, defeated the Hawkeyes by a score of 12 to 9. There was a great amount of hitting on both sides, although something seemed to take hold of Lewis' men, for they forced two twirlers, Knapp and Dear-doff, out of the box. Beecher was the third man used by the Hawkeyes and proved to have little that Wisconsin could not find. Captain Boulware and Fox performed wonders for the Badger team, the catcher doing most of the heavy clouting and stickwork.

With a Witt already on his team, Connie Mack is now trying to get a collegian named Watt. Detroit has score there will be some cussing by printers and proofreaders. By the way, there is Wittler playing with Newark. He might add to the confusion if Connie needs an outfielder.

Thick Rubber Anti-Skid Chains for Long Service

These rubber chains and the perfected United States Tire carcass construction are what make the 'Chain' Tread the most efficient, moderate priced anti-skid tire made today.

The thickness of the two chains of rubber running around the tread is what gives the extra wear of 'Chain' Treads.

The position of these rubber chains on the tread gives the remarkable traction and anti-skid qualities and additional wear, for which 'Chain' Treads are famous.

The 'Chain' is one of five United States 'Balanced' Tires which meet every motoring condition of price and use.

Ask the nearest United States Tire Dealer for your copy of the booklet, "Judging Tires," which tells how to find the particular tire to suit your needs.

Oil-Proof Cement.

A cement which will not be affected by oil is made by mixing glycerine and litharge to the consistency of a thick paste. This will be found very handy in repairing cracked oil reservoirs or in making an oil-tight joint between two metal plates. The cement should be applied as soon as it is mixed, since it hardens very quickly.
